Hotel Miramar (www.hotelmiramarbarcelona.com) is situated atop Montjuic Mountain, next to the Costa I Llobera gardens and with spectacular panoramic views across Barcelona and the Mediterranean. Housed in a former Art Deco palace that was originally built for the World Fair of 1929, the building has been carefully renovated with original features preserved. The hotel is surrounded by extensive private gardens designed by French landscape architect Jean C. Forestier and within weeks of opening was featured in Condé Nast Traveller's 2007 'Hot List'. The restaurant, Forestier, serves contemporary Mediterranean dishes.

For summer city loving, Hotel Miramar offers...

- Views - spectacular and panoramic views across the city as well as the Mediterranean Sea
- Intimacy – just 75 spacious bedrooms and suites, each individually designed, many with private terraces
- Sex appeal – upgrade to a suite; order room service; enjoy your own private outdoor Jacuzzi
- Poolside allure – Hotel Miramar's sleek outdoor swimming pool and poolside bar set within the hotel's extensive private gardens provide the ideal opportunity to enjoy a cocktail and relax
